

DISCUSS TARIFF AND THE TRUSTS

Topics at Today's Session of Conference.

BYRON HOLT OF THE FREE TRADE BUREAU, SPEAKS.

Favors Free Competition Among Manufacturers—Articles Controlled by Combines—John F. Scanlan of Illinois, and Thomas Updegraff, of Iowa, Take the Negative Side—Hold That Such a Procedure Would Result in More Powerful International Monopolies.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—[Special].—"Is protective tariff responsible for the creation of trusts, and would its abolition result in destroying their power?" was the topic for consideration at today's session of the trust conference.

Byron Holt of the New England Free Trade bureau, opened the discussion, and maintained that tariff made it possible for the industrial combinations where the natural conditions favored free competition among the manufacturers and enabled these combinations to crush out rivals and control prices to consumers of manufacturer's goods as well as to the producers of raw materials. He said only the repeal of the duty on articles controlled by the trusts would obviate the evils incident upon combinations.

John F. Scanlan of Illinois, and Thomas Updegraff of Iowa, replied to Holt. They held that if the present tariff be removed from the products controlled by trusts, and foreign competition were admitted, the result would soon be that international trusts would form which would be even more powerful than those now existent.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—This is what was done at the trust conference yesterday.

MORNING SESSION.
Franklin H. Head, called the conference to order and explained its objects. Atty.-Gen. Akin of Illinois, representing Gov. Tanner, welcomed the delegates.

City Prosecutor Taylor, representing Mayor Harrison, welcomed the delegates to Chicago.

Prof. J. W. Jenks of Cornell stated the trust problem.

AFTERNOON SESSION.
Addresses by Prof. H. C. Adams of the University of Michigan, Dudley Goodall Wooten of Texas, William Fortune of the Indiana state board of commerce and Prof. John Grahame Brooks, formerly of Harvard university.

Dr. Henry C. Adams of the University of Michigan, talked of trusts from an economic standpoint. He insisted that no matter what steps were taken or federal laws passed for the control of trusts, provision should be made by the states for an efficient, comprehensive and harmonious control over the auditing departments of such industries as choose the trust organization for the prosecution of business.

Dudley Wooten of Texas, said: "If, as we believe and think the facts demonstrate, the inordinate growth and power of corporations are the real germs of the alarming trusts and monopolies of the age, then clearly that should be the point of first attack. Under our institutions these artificial persons or citizens are created by the states and not by the federal government."

"But the burden of this great work cannot and ought not to be thrown entirely upon the states. Notwithstanding the high authority of the attorney-general of the United States and his presumable familiarity with trusts in their natural habitat, we believe that the federal government both can and should assume the initiative in the movement to suppress and restrain these great corporate monopolies."

"By these two means—state and federal legislation combining to reduce the number, power and privileges of private corporations—the rapid growth of the corporate monopolies can be controlled and restrained, but in no other way that we can perceive."

EVENING SESSION.
Addresses by Gov. Atkinson of West Virginia, Attorney-General Crowe of Missouri, P. E. Dove of the Commercial Travelers' league, Francis B. Thurber of New York, and Joseph Nimmo, Washington.

Election of William Wirt Howe of New Orleans as permanent chairman of the conference, with Dudley Goodall Wooten of Texas, first vice-president; Mayor H. V. Johnson of Denver, second vice-president, and S. E. Corliss of New York, third vice-president.

Gov. G. W. Atkinson of West Virginia spoke in part as follows:

"If the advocates and participants in the trusts could satisfy the minds of the masses upon the three following propositions: they would have but little opposition in the years to come:

"Will you, and can you, in all cases, as you claim, agree to furnish a better and cheaper article to consumers of all the necessities of life covered by your trusts and combines?"

"What do you propose to do with the tens of thousands of middlemen now employed, who of necessity must lose their present positions?"

"What will become of the small dealers scattered over our country from Maine to Florida, and from the Atlantic to California?"

"What are we going to do with this large class of our fellow-citizens who are now prosperous and happy in their occupations? These are momentous problems and involve momentous results."

Attorney-General E. C. Crowe of Missouri advised legislation looking to the individual liability of members of a trust.

F. B. Thurber, representing the New York board of trade, said: "The grievances of individuals injured in this evolution of industries have been magnified and the general good minimized. That wider markets are necessary and that large capital intelligently administered is necessary to find them is not appreciated. I have faith that with further study of this subject by the American people the facts will become plainer."

P. E. Dove, president of the Commercial Travelers' National league, spoke in part as follows:

"I have a list showing advances in the prices due to the direct or indirect influence of trusts of about 150 commodities, the advances ranging from 5 to 500 per cent."

DAVIDSON REPORTS SHARP ENGAGEMENT

PARAGUA STRUCK MANY TIMES
BY RIFLE SHOTS.

Insurgents Fire Silenced in Twenty Minutes—The Occasion Was the Capture and Destruction of a Filipino Schooner—British Authorities Release the Transport Tartar.

Washington, Sept. 14.—[Special].—The following from Admiral Watson of Manila, was received this morning: "Davidson, commanding the gunboat Paragua, reports a sharp engagement at Boloboa. The vessels were struck many times by rifle shots. No casualties. The Paragua silenced the insurgents' fire in twenty minutes. The occasion was the capture of a Filipino schooner, which Davidson destroyed."

Transport Tartar Released.

Washington, Sept. 14.—[Special].—The British authorities at Hong Kong have released the American transport Tartar, which was held there on account of alleged overcrowding.

The vessel which carries the Kansas regiment, will continue its journey home today.

Commissioner Ordered Home.
Manila, Sept. 14.—[Special].—Charles Denby and Dean of Worcester and members of the Philippine commission, have received instructions from President McKinley, asking them to return as soon as possible.

BOYLE WILL REMAIN

Crack All-Around Athlete of Milwaukee Will Not Attend Michigan University.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 14.—[Special].—The report that Frank Boyle, the crack all-around athlete of the Milwaukee Athletic club, had arranged to attend the University of Michigan this fall and join the track and field team there, is without foundation. Boyle has signed a contract with William Lachenmaler to act as manager and book-keeper of his new school of physical culture, which will be opened in this city about the first of December. The building is now under course of erection. Boyle has entered in the A. A. U. championships to be held at Chicago next Saturday and will represent the Milwaukee Athletic club. He will continue his practice and remain an amateur.

FORECAST OF WEATHER

Chicago, Sept. 14.—[Special].—Forecast for Wisconsin:

Fair tonight and Friday; warmer Friday.

The World's Tobacco Product.

Although tobacco first became known to the civilized world through the discovery of America, where the natives cultivated and smoked it, yet about two-thirds of the world's yearly product of tobacco is now produced in the eastern hemisphere. The total product is estimated at 1,900,000,000 pounds, of which America produces 650,000,000. Cuba, whose tobacco is reckoned the finest of all, produces only 62,000,000 pounds, being far exceeded in respect to quantity by the state of Kentucky, whose product is put at 185,000,000 pounds.

Costly Fish.

The most beautiful and costly fishes in the world come from China, and the rarest and most expensive of all is the brush tail gold fish. Specimens of these have been sold as high as $700 each, and in Europe the prices range from $250 to $500. The brush tail gold fish is so small that a five-shilling piece will cover it, and probably there is no living thing of its size and weight that is worth so much money.

HOLDING REUNION OF IRON BRIGADE

MEMBERS OF THE ASSOCIATION
ARRIVE AT RACINE.

M. C. Slatts Drowned in the Wisconsin River at Stevens Point—Prisoners Transferred From Waupun to Green Bay—A New Bank For Stoughton—State News.

Racine, Wis., Sept. 14.—Members of the Iron Brigade began arriving here last night. The lobby of the Hotel Racine is prettily decorated with flags, and "Doc" Aubrey, newsboy of the old brigade, is here with his hundreds of war relics, and they are being viewed by large numbers of people.

Secretary Henry Sanford has arrived from Madison, and General Hallon Richardson of Chippewa Falls, J. H. Marston of Appleton, and Mathew Andrews of Denison, O., are also here.

Three hundred arrived this morning. The home members of the brigade met the visitors at the trains and with a band of music escorted them to the rooms of the Elks, where a reception was given, and the "boys" registered. This afternoon the business meeting will be held, and in the evening the banquet at Guild hall, prepared by the Woman's Relief corps. Tomorrow from 9 to 11 there will be a public reception at the Elks' rooms and a ride about the town.

May Touch Appleton.

Appleton, Wis., Sept. 14.—It was learned yesterday that Appleton is not to be left out in the cold by the Illinois Central railway. The announcement that the big Illinois road was contemplating the extension of its lines from Madison to Fond du Lac had been forecast by the negotiations for the franchise of the defunct Wisconsin company. It is now stated, however, that the plan is not to make Fond du Lac a terminus, but to extend the road along the east shore of Lake Winnebago, striking at or near Appleton. Whether the road will continue its route along the lines of the Wisconsin Midland or whether a branch will be built from Appleton to Manitowoc and connect with the car ferry lines, is not known. The Wisconsin Midland railway, when first organized, ran its lines from Madison to Fond du Lac and at one time some of the ties were laid. From Fond du Lac the route followed the east shore of Lake Winnebago, touching near Appleton. At a point a few miles east of this city the promoters planned to locate a junction, from which one line was to run north towards Otonagon, Mich., and another down the Fox River valley to Green Bay and thence to Sturgeon Bay.

Sent to Green Bay.
Madison, Wis., Sept. 14.—The state board of control has ordered the transfer from the state prison at Waupun to the Green Bay reformatory of Harry Hayes and Fred Mansfield, young men recently sentenced by Judge Donovan for obtaining money under false pretenses by a picture scheme.

The board has decided to extend its system of purchasing supplies for state institutions by bids and contracts. Notices will be sent out to every wholesale dealer and jobber in the state, but none outside of Wisconsin, representing bids for all staple articles used at all the state institutions. Bids will be opened Sept. 29 and then the purchases will be made at the office of the board here, and those who wish to bid will come here with samples and prices. The stewards and superintendents of the different institutions will meet here with the board when bids are opened. This will bring a large crowd to the city monthly, as the contracts will be let each month.

Drowned at Stevens Point.

Stevens Point, Wis., Sept. 14.—Matthew C. Slatts, formerly a well known lumberman and local politician, was drowned in Wisconsin river. He went to the river to bathe, and is supposed to have walked out on a boom, lost his balance and fallen in. His clothes were found on the bank last night and search led to the quick recovery of the body. He was 74 years old.

New Bank For Stoughton.

Stoughton, Wis., Sept. 14.—O. E. Terry, F. B. Hyland, and K. G. Olson have organized a new bank with a capital stock of $25,000 to be divided into shares of $100 each. This will be a state bank and be conducted in the department store with F. B. Hyland, as president and K. G. Olson, cashier.

Cuban Election Is Called.

Havana, Sept. 14.—At a meeting of the presidents of the local committees of the Cuban national party it was agreed that the representation on municipal committees should be fixed upon the basis of one delegate to each 100 voters. All elections are to be held the same day and the franchise is given to all males over 21 years of age who are not foreigners. Sept. 24 was fixed as the date for electing delegates.

Favors Boycott of Paris Fair.

London, Sept. 14.—According to the Daily Mail, which is a strong advocate of a general boycott of the Paris exhibition as a protest against the Rennes verdict, Baron Suffield, president of the Article club, an organization including in its membership the colonial agents general and representing commercial firms with an aggregate capital of £2,000,000,000, favors the projected boycott.

MORE RUMORS OF DREYFUS' PARDON

KEPT QUIET IN ORDER TO SPIRIT HIM AWAY.

Well Informed People Do Not Believe That President Loubet Would Do So While Appeal Is Pending—No Preparations Made as Yet to Remove Prisoner.

Paris, Sept. 14.—[Special].—It is rumored again today that a pardon has been granted Alfred Dreyfus, but is being kept secret until he can be smuggled out of the country.

Well informed people, however, do not believe that President Loubet would pardon Dreyfus while an appeal is pending.

No Preparation to Remove Dreyfus.

Rennes, Sept. 14.—[Special].—No preparations to remove Dreyfus from Rennes has thus far been made. The prisoner's health continues fairly well.

A New Fact For Revision.

Paris, Sept. 14.—[Special].—An Aurora newspaper claims to have discovered a new letter written by Col. Schwartzkoppen, exonerating Dreyfus, and says it makes a new fact necessary for a revision.

Dreyfus in Good Spirits.

Rennes, Sept. 14.—Capt. Dreyfus continues in good spirits and his health is fairly satisfactory. Most of his waking hours are passed in reading correspondence and Paris literary reviews. He is under the same discipline as prior to the trial and is allowed exercise daily in the prison yard. A guard of forty soldiers is posted in the prison yard beneath his window, and a sentry with loaded rifle and fixed bayonet is stationed on the wall overlooking the second courtyard, where he takes his exercise.

Indiana Town Badly Burned.

English, Ind., Sept. 14.—The town of Milltown, fifteen miles east of English, is on fire. Telephone information is cut-off by the flames and there is no night telegraph office at Milltown. At last reports T. E. Hancock's general store, the Odd Fellows hall, J. F. Rawling's undertaking establishment, the Royer hotel, two cottages belonging to T. E. Hancock, C. W. Rawling's two-story residence, were burned, and a number of other houses were in danger. The loss at this hour will reach at least $20,000. There is no fire protection but a bucket brigade.

Methodists Object to Plan.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 14.—The forty-eighth annual session of the Chicago German Methodist conference met Wednesday, with Bishop Hurst presiding. The conference embraces Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana. The proposition of the Baltimore Methodist conference relative to the election and seating of provisional delegates at the general convention of the Methodist church, which will meet in Chicago in 1900, was emphatically turned down. It is stated to be the first of the conferences to vote adversely on the proposition.

Work for Good Roads.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 14.—At the good roads convention Wednesday there were between 600 and 700 delegates in attendance. They represented every county in the state. Action was taken which it is believed will result in the passage of a constitutional amendment which will permit the state to appropriate money for the building of good roads. The convention declares in favor of the state bearing a fraction of the cost of building all roads which are constructed in accordance with plans approved by the state.

Has Taken No Part of Brazil.

Washington, Sept. 14.—Neither the state department nor the German embassy has any official advice on the reported acquisition of a tract of land nearly 1,000 miles square in Brazil by the German government. The German minister, Mr. von Mumm, says that no such acquisition has been made by his government, but that the report probably grows out of the work of colonization societies in Brazil, some of which are conducted in Germany and are distinctly private enterprises.

American Overseas Farming.

A writer in Popular Science describes ostrich farming in southern California as a growing industry. The last birds were imported about 13 years ago, and now there are farms at Norwalk and South Pasadena stocked with hundreds of ostriches born in California. Every few months the male birds are stripped of their white plumes, each bird yielding about $30 worth of feathers annually. The birds are also sold to menageries, a fine pair being worth from $250 to $300. The hatching of the eggs requires forty-two days, the hen covering them in the daytime and the male bird at night. The prevailing color of the hen is gray, and that of the male black, so that their choice of the hours for sitting on the eggs corresponds with the time when each is less easily seen.

Excitement in Viscaya.

Madrid, Sept. 14.—The government has dispatched three regiments to Viscaya, where the declaration of martial law, made through royal decree, has caused great excitement.

GETTING READY FOR THE FRAY

Beloit College Football Eleven Goes Into Active Training Today

The Beloit Daily News says: "With the return of the Beloit college football coach, Jack Hollister, active hostilities have commenced, the first line-up being on Keep Athletic Field today. Sufficient recruits have been found for two eleven and practice games will be played every day. Mr. Hollister says there is a very fair prospect of filling the places made vacant by the center rush and quarter back, the latter held by Bobby Childs, captain of last year's team. There are numerous candidates for the positions and practice will reveal the most available timber. The practice for this week will consist chiefly in developing the ends and backs. The schedule, which includes four games at home, has been already published. The first game will be at Whitewater, next week Saturday, Sept. 23, with Whitewater Normal."

The Pope Ordered to Rest.

London, Sept. 14.—A dispatch to the Pall Mall Gazette from Rome says the seriousness of the pope's illness has been exaggerated. Dr. Laponi says his holiness has a slight cold, but no fever. Absolute rest for the aged pontiff has been ordered.

NATIONAL EXPORT EXPOSITION OPEN

DEDICATION CEREMONIES BEGAN AT NOON TODAY.

Street Parade of Marines From the North Atlantic Squadron Was One of the Features—President McKinley Sends Message of Congratulation—Building Lavishly Decorated.

Philadelphia, Sept. 14.—[Special].—The National export exposition was thrown open to the public this morning. At noon the dedication ceremonies were begun.

The exposition buildings and public and private buildings are lavishly decorated. The street parade of marines from the North Atlantic squadron, was one of the features of the opening day. Congressman Hepburn of Iowa, was the orator of the day.

President McKinley sent a message of congratulation announcing the hearty co-operation of the United States in the enterprise.

APPALLING DISASTER

Thirty-two Women and Children Crushed to Death in a Panic in a Synagogue.

Leutschitz, Poland, Sept. 14.—[Special].—An appalling disaster occurred here today as a result of a panic in a synagogue which was jammed with people celebrating the feast of Yomkipur. In the rush for the doors, thirty-two women and children were crushed to death.

Tell of Alaskan Situation.

Washington, Sept. 14.—Senator Foster, ex-Gov. J. M. McGraw, and Will H. Perry of Washington, had a conference with the president Wednesday. Mr. McGraw emphasized the strong feeling of Americans in Alaska that no concession be made on the boundary-limit dispute. He told the president that in Alaska and the northwest the people are firm on this subject, and are opposed to any concessions to Canada.

Offer Terms for Dreyfus' Pardon.

Boston, Sept. 14.—The Post announces that it has received the following private dispatch from Paris: "Gens. Roget and Mercier have offered on the part of the army to demand from President Loubet the pardon of Capt. Dreyfus, if the Jewish committee will drop the matter and on the condition that Dreyfus shall live away from the large cities of France for three years."

New Fever Cases Reported.

Jackson, Miss., Sept. 14.—Dr. H. H. Harry, state health officer in charge at Mississippi City, reports one new case of yellow fever at that place.

Key West, Fla., Sept. 14.—Thirty-five cases of yellow fever have been reported in the last twenty-four hours. No deaths.

None of His Business.

A story illustrating the reticence of the Scotch regarding their private affairs was told by Ian MacLaren when in Boston. A train was at a railroad station when a porter put his head into a car and called out: "Any one in this car for Down? Change for Down? Any one for Down?" No one moved, and in a few minutes the train was speeding along, not to stop again for nearly an hour. Then an old Scotchwoman turned to a lady near her and said: "I'm for Down, but I'd no tell that man so."

Only One.

"I have only one request to make, my dear," said Mr. Spiffins, who woke up and found his wife searching his pockets. "Well, what is it?" "Kindly leave me a nickel with which to pay my carfare into the city in the morning."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

ENGLAND'S REPLY ENRAGED BOERS

Dispatch to Anti-Jingo Paper From Pretoria.

CONVICTION IS THAT GENERAL
WAR IS INEVITABLE.

Message Adds That South African Recruiting Stations Are Crowded—Burghers of Orange Free State Resolve That They Will Stand By the Transvaal—Members of Raad Notified to Hold Themselves in Readiness to Attend an Extraordinary Session.

Manchester, England, Sept. 14.—[Special].—The Manchester Guardian, the leading anti-jingo paper outside of London, today prints a dispatch from Pretoria saying that Great Britain's reply has caused great indignation and that the conviction is that a general war is now inevitable.

The dispatch adds that the Boer recruiting stations are crowded and the war preparations are almost feverish.

Burghers to Stand by Transvaal.

Bloemfontein, Orange Free State, Sept. 14.—[Special].—At a meeting of the burghers of Orange Free State just held, a resolution was passed declaring that they would stand by the Transvaal in case of war.

Members of the Orange Free State Raad were notified to hold themselves in readiness to attend an extraordinary session which may be called at any moment.

Boers Reply Drafted.

Pretoria, Sept. 14.—[Special].—The Boers' reply to England's note has been drafted and is now being considered by Raad in secret session. The reply is reported to be an agreement, except on the question of a five year franchise.

Cape Town, Sept. 14.—The Basuto emigrants employed in Cape Colony are flocking home to their territory east of Orange Free State. Persistent disquieting indications point to the likelihood in case of war in the Transvaal of a general native movement in opposition to white rule, like that which twenty years ago was put down only after the expenditure of nearly £4,000,000. Fully 100,000 natives are well armed.

Will Accept British Note.

Cape Town, Sept. 14.—It is asserted in Afrikaner circles here that the Transvaal government will accept the British note, leaving the question of suzerainty on the basis of the convention of 1884. The decision of the executive will undoubtedly be influenced by the action of the Orange Free State. The government is still willing to attend the joint commission originally proposed.

The report as to the time limit of forty-eight hours arose from the fact that the British diplomatic agent at Pretoria, Conyngham Greene, in presenting Mr. Chamberlain's dispatch, expressed a hope that a reply would be given by the Transvaal government by Thursday.

The Cape Times and the Cape Argus both consider the British note generous and conciliatory, and all the papers, including the Krugerite organs, assume that the Transvaal will comply with the British demands.

It is believed that the Orange Free State volunteers will be summoned to consider the situation.

Military developments continue and the work of preparation for emergencies goes on. Upon the arrival of the next batch of British troops the headquarters staff of the Royal artillery will be transferred to Kimberley, whether a battery will proceed to protect the diamond mines.

President Will Not Move.

Washington, Sept. 14.—The president has no intention of proffering mediation in the Transvaal dispute. Should the Boer republic of Great Britain request the United States to mediate, though, the president would probably be happy to act.

Urge Kruger to Yield.

London, Sept. 14.—A special dispatch from Pretoria says the leaders of the Afrikaner Bund have telegraphed to President Kruger urging him to yield to Mr. Chamberlain's last demands.

Will Send Supplies to Natal.

Melbourne, Victoria, Sept. 14.—The government of the colony of Victoria, at the urgent request of the British war office, will ship immediately to Natal 2,000 tons of fodder.

Cowboy-Mexican Situation Quiet.

Bisbee, Ariz., Sept. 14.—The latest reports received from Naco indicate that everything is quiet. The Mexican guards, over 100 in number, are patrolling the line. Cowboys are still arriving here. No arrests have yet been made of cowboys who killed the Mexican guards on the San Pedro. It is reported that some of them have left the country in order to avoid being turned over to the Mexican authorities.

LONDON SIGHTS

CASUAL PEOPLE
GLEANINGS DIFFER BUT IN WORLD'S LITTLE LARGEST FROM CITY AMERICANS

BY WILL. W. WATT.

London, with its numerous attractions, is too wonderful a city to be dealt with in a limited space, therefore I will take but little time for introductory flourishes. I take it for granted that you are aware of the fact that London is the largest city in the world and the capital of a country well known in history. You are also, no doubt, aware of the fact that it contains a population of four million; that the city measures ten miles square and that a ride of sixty miles would hardly carry you around the space filled by its countless homes. A stranger set down in this huge city feels bewildered. After traveling in that portion of Europe where the English language is but little spoken, you feel more at home the minute you set foot on English soil. Here you meet people who differ but little from the Americans.

On my arrival in London, I asked the cab driver if he knew where the Cecil hotel was located and in true English style he said: "Yes, my lad, it sits on Haymarket square and is fully three bloody miles away." A drive of a half hour through streets filled with teams, brought me to my destination. The hotel clerk was one of those Englishmen who no doubt frequently indulges in a glass of Scotch whisky, for his features plainly indicated that he was not a temperance man. After I had my baggage brought in, I inquired as to what I could get a comfortable room for provided I took it for a week. "Seeing that you intend to remain a week I will make a rate of six dollars a day," said the obliging clerk as he handed me the pen to register.

After a pause of one minute, the Englishman broke the silence by saying: "But you must remember that this includes three bloody good meals each day." I don't just recall what my bill was, for I remained less than five minutes. London is filled with boarding houses and hotels, where one can stay at moderate prices. For two dollars a day you can stop at first class hotels near Trafalgar square and within walking distance of the leading places of amusement. This two dollars "includes your three meals" and as comfortable a room as you will receive at the Hotel Myers or Grand.

Living is much cheaper for the poorer classes here than it is in America and much dearer for the well-to-do. Men's clothing is so reasonable here that but little ready made clothing is sold, but instead the average Londoner has his suit made to order at an average cost not to exceed fifteen dollars. This price gives you the best of workmanship and the highest grade of English and Scotch made fabrics. The same suit in America costs you about thirty dollars, which high price is owing to the duty on this imported cloth as well as a better scale of wages which exists in America. To be a true Englishman you must first don a black frock coat and then a high silk hat. The greater portion of the dressers in London follow this style, no matter whether a man is a millionaire or a hotel porter. Never judge the business or social standing of a Londoner by his dress.

London is an easy city to travel in for here all you have to do is to ask a policeman to direct you. That is more than a person can do in Paris, unless they know the French language, as the French talk it. The London police are an accommodating class of men, always willing to give desired information. Ways of transportation here are many, but the greater portion travel via the omnibus lines, which are the only means of transit in the crowded section of the city, aside from an underground railroad. The streets here are so crowded with teams and pedestrians that cable and electric cars could make no headway. Omnibus travel is cheap, and for two cents you may ride a distance of two miles. The best way to see the city is to get on top of one of these buses and ride until it stops. Secure your seat near the driver, and on presenting him with a small fee he will be more than polite to you in pointing out all the places of interest. Cab fare here is also very reasonable, and you will not find it on the robbing plan as you do in America. The government has taken the regulating of prices in hand, and in plain view in every cab you see a scale of prices. For twenty-five cents you may ride a distance of two miles. For three persons it costs no more than for one. Several of the cabs have attached what is known as the new taximeter. When a passenger enters a cab, the record is made that he is to pay a shilling in English money, which is equal to twenty-five cents in our money. If the distance traveled is more than two miles, the instrument adds a half shilling for each mile. If the cab is kept waiting, the little machine keeps account of the time and also records the extra two pence (four cents) for each piece of luggage carried outside. You are not obliged to tip your driver here as you are in Paris.

The average American on his first visit to London makes his way first to the many historic places for which the city is noted. Westminster Abbey I may mention as the first of these to which all England points with pride. The edifice is open to the public each day in the week. Three services are held on Sunday and on week days service takes place at 8:30 o'clock each morning. Within its walls are buried the illustrious dead of England from Edward, the confessor, to Gladstone. Among noticeable features is the great height of the roof and the beauty and harmony of the long array of clustered piers, moulded arches and monuments. The houses of Parliament, St. Paul's cathedral, London bridge, Tower of London, British Museum, Hyde park, Thames river, Regent park and numerous other points of interest are well worth your time.

In order to say that you have seen London your time here should not be less than a month. Not far from this great metropolis are many places of special interest including Windsor castle. A ride of one hour takes you to Brighton, which is known as London by the Sea. Here I found a city of two hundred thousand people and some of the finest hotels in the world. It is an English watering place and very much on the order of the gay sea side resorts of America.

Londoners are at present catering to the Americans to such an extent that I might say that they are overdoing the thing. On all of the leading hotels and places of business you will see the American flag displayed. Merchants advertise exclusive American shoes and clothing, while the average saloon here advertises American drinks served by American barmaids.

In the way of amusement American artists have invaded London and in most instances have been well received by the masses. Tod Sloan, the American jockey, and Jim Jeffries, the American pugilist, are both in favor here. At the theatres, Nat Goodwin, De Wolf Hopper and the Belle of New York, are all drawing crowded houses. The Barnum & Bailey circus has just left England for Scotland, after doing a tremendous business. At the Strand theatre during the past six months has been the same company that produced in Janesville last winter the comedy known as "Why Smith Left Home." Janesville theatregoers may be interested in knowing that although this company played in the Bower City one night to a beggarly house, they managed to play in London every night in the week for six months to standing room only. During the past two weeks of their stay here people formed in line as early as four o'clock in the afternoon and there stood until the box office opened at 8 o'clock. "What Happened to Jones," which was also one of Manager Myers' attractions, has been enjoying an eight months' run here. At all the London theatres you will find lady ushers. In the rear of the theatre is a saloon, which is operated in connection with the house. Barmaids preside over these drinking places, the same as they do in France, Belgium, and Holland and are handsome.

The London city directory weighs 12 pounds and contains more Smiths than there are people in all Rock county and at the present rate of growth, London 1950 will have 19,000,000 people.

FOOTVILLE TOBACCO CROP GREAT

Harvest Nearly Over—Methodists Arranging For a Concert.

Footville, Sept. 14.—The tobacco harvest is nearly over. The early leaf is as fine as has been raised in years. Several crops in this vicinity have been purchased by Sutter Bros., the prices ranging from 6 to 7 cents straight. S. J. Straug has had some fine sign painting done by E. C. Evans. Mr. Evans is a first class workman. Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Strang left Tuesday, for Mt. Clemens, Mich., where they are both in hopes of improving their health at this much sought watering place. The best wishes of their many friends follow them. The members of the Methodist church are arranging for a first class concert. The date is expected to be September 20. Look for further notice and prepare to come. No pains will be spared to make it an interesting affair. Rev. H. C. Logan is doing fine work as pastor of the Methodist church, and his return for the coming year is expected. Miss Anna Mickleson and Miss Fannie Hart of Janesville, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Vesper. Our village school opened September 4, with a fair attendance. We are pleased to know that the Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church will project a lecture course this season. Further announcement later. A large number of Footville young people attended the farewell party of Miss Snyder, at Mrs. W. Davis' last Thursday evening. Station Agent C. R. Vesper was off duty, Monday. The W. P. Stiles store is to be reopened soon, by Mattias & Cole of Magnolia. Many successes attend them. Our village is short of houses to rent. Inquiries are made, daily for houses. Who will erect a few cottages? Mrs. Gertrude Hemmingsway and her sister Jennie, the popular dress maker, are doing the fiery act at our village.

A GOOD SHOW; SMALL HOUSE

"Chattanooga" Secured a Hit at the Grand Last Night.

Those who enjoy a a melo-drama that is up-to-date in every particular and missed Lincoln J. Carter's five act war play, "Chattanooga," at Myers Grand last evening, missed a rare treat, and they were many, for there was only a small audience present. The play is cleverly conceived and well written and deals with those days of '61-'65 that tried men's souls. The production was presented in Janesville last night for the first time. It is in its wonderful scenery that the great strength of the play is discovered, however, and this the author is no doubt the cleverest man in the world in devising. Lem B. Parker, the handsome villain, carried out his difficult part to perfection and was most natural in the rendition of his lines. Clyde Hess, the villain's wronged cousin and hero, was very clever indeed and the struggle of villain and hero on the engine was a thrilling scene. Chas. Harris, the Kentucky colonel, was most natural, as was Will J. Simms, as his son, Minnie Dixon Parker, as the heroine, displayed a pretty charm of manner and excellent skill in the technical business of her scenes. She has a beautiful voice in addition to her many other charms. Emeline Hess, to whom was allotted the part of the sobrette, was one of the striking successes of the representation. Florence Herrington, as the widow, was also very good. Those making up the balance of the cast were very good indeed and are worthy of individual mention, but time forbids.

Manager Myers has been successful in booking some strong attractions and the citizens of Janesville should appreciate his efforts in this direction by a more liberal and deserved patronage. The next attraction is "Under the Dome," another of Lincoln J. Carter's popular productions, which promises to equal if not surpass last night's performance.

Center.

Center, Sept. 14.—Farmers are nearly through harvesting the tobacco crop, which promises to be an extra good yield this year. Miss Pearl T. Anals of Janesville, began her second year's work in District No. 1, Monday. Miss Myrtle Mutchler also began school on Monday in the east district. There will be a cake and ice cream social given for the benefit of the Mission band on Thursday evening, September 21, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Torpy. An excellent program will be rendered also various articles made by the children will be sold. All are cordially invited to attend. Those who attended the state convention of the church of Christ at Richland Center, were P. H. Torpy, John Fisher, Charles Wright, Henry Pepper, Pearl Dean, Mrs. Esther Parmley and Miss Lottie Dean. Corn cutting is now the order of the day. Zoe Cory who is attending school at the Evansville seminary, spent Sunday at home. Lura Snyder has gone to Iowa to spend the year with her grandmother, Mrs. Jones. We will miss her as she was a good help in the Sunday school. Mrs. Elsie Fuller has returned from a visit with her son in Evansville.

Porter.

Porter, Sept. 14.—Miss Mamie Dooley resumed her studies in Janesville on Monday. Fred Boss and Miss Kittie Tracy of Leyden, were visitors here Sunday. Miss Kate Ford began another year teaching in the Stevens district, this week. W. T. Dooley and wife of Janesville, were here on Monday. W. A. Pound has purchased a new corn grinder. A number of farmers are threshing. A severe wind storm visited this section of the country Tuesday of last week. J. Collins' tobacco shed, full of tobacco, was blown down, four chimneys taken off from Frank Montgomery's house and windmills, too numerous to mention were blown down.

Plague Reached South Africa.

Lourenzo Marquez, Delagoa Bay, Sept. 14.—A health officer has returned after examining a suspicious outbreak of sickness at Magude, a small place near here. He says that it is the plague, but that no fresh cases have occurred there in the last twelve days.

GOVERNOR SCOFIELD SPEAKS AT FAIR

LOYALTY TO THE ADMINISTRATION IS URGED.

The Test of the Trusts Should Be What Good or Harm They Did. The People—Touches the Subject of the Situation in the Philippines.

Milwaukee, Sept. 14.—Referring to the Philippines and trusts, Governor Scofield in his address at the state fair, said that there were two great questions which were paramount at the present time. They differed widely in nature, but had this in common, that the exercise of intelligence and faith on the part of the people is essential to their right solution. These questions were the issues in the Philippines and the trust problem. They would, the governor said, be eventually solved right, but it would be through individuals, thinking seriously upon them rather than by confusion with partisan differences. Said the governor:

There are those who, to gain partisan ends, would make it appear that there is abroad a rampant expansion sentiment which is seeking to grasp all territory within reach and make use of the misfortune of war to bring glory to the country. If there are people holding such sentiments they have yet to be heard from. I believe neither the administration nor the great mass of people who are supporting its war policy has any such ambition. There is no glory in war beyond that which comes from the performance of a solemn duty and the courageous acceptance of a sacred responsibility. Instead of glory, indeed, it seems to my mind to involve something of the nature of a penalty.

Was Against War With Spain

I was among those who did not believe this country should be pressed into a war with Spain. I still believe that the war might have been averted had it not been for undue pressure on the part of some of the members of congress. The present trouble has come as a natural outgrowth of the other, and our first duty in the premises is to accept the responsibility. It is the extreme of folly to talk of withdrawing our troops from the Philippines at the present time. We have certain duties to perform; one is to suppress insurrection, and to that end an army large enough to do it promptly should be furnished; and the next is to see to it that as rapidly as possible a stable government for the people of that country is established.

The president of the United States, whose conduct from the beginning of the unpleasant controversy with Spain up to the present time has been dignified and statesmanlike, has recently expressed some views concerning our future relations to those far off islands which seem to me to be significant. If the papers have quoted the president correctly as saying that the Philippine islands belong to this country by right of purchase, and by this is meant that when the insurrection is suppressed those islands shall become part of United States territory; and if the policy of the war while it is in progress is to be shaped to that end I believe a very serious mistake may be made. I do not think that this country should attempt to attach to itself a territory thousands of miles away and an alien race that it would take centuries to amalgamate with ours.

People Will Settle It

WE KEEP THE QUALITY UP

FUR COLLARETTES

We are showing a large line.

Bought ours early and paid small prices.

Our garments are well made—reliable.

Furs will be much worn this fall and winter.

Early purchasing of furs means carefully selected skins.

Our stock is in excellent condition. We have a large assortment of fine fur garments and can save you money. Everything is advancing in price, but forehanded buying will save our customers many dollars and we can give them reliable furs at the same time.

Astrachan Jackets.

Many fur jackets will be worn and already women are selecting them. We have jackets in stock that have advanced 3 to 4 dollars since we bought them.

We offer a 24-inch jacket, box front, extra high collar, excellent lining—a thoroughly good Astrachan Jacket—at $29.00.

Fur Capes.

We make a specialty of fur capes. Our present assortment comprises a beautiful lot of them.

Long, sensible capes, 27, 30 and 33-inch lengths, with sweeps of 110" and 115 inches in wool seal with opossum or marten collars. Monkey capes Electric seal with marten collar and edge.

Astrachan Beaver and Novelties.

Cloth Jackets.

A very complete line at figures that are small. Several numbers have advanced from 50c to $2 since we bought ours. We will not attempt to go into details; this "ad." is more to let you know that we are ready for any demand.

Cloth Capes, Plush Capes.

We are not caught napping. All kinds of outer garments are higher, because cloths have advanced and the great demand for garments gives employment to all the garment-workers in the large manufacturing centers and the scarcity of skilled labor sends up wages, as the experts can command a marked increase over summer prices. We placed our orders in May and June. Capes of plush or cloth will be very good and we show all the new things.

GOLF CAPES—By far the most attractive styles here.

We make them to order also from beautiful Steamer Rugs. Like qualities in ready-made capes cost from $5 to $10 more than we get them up for.

McCall Bazar Patterns are well liked.

All 10c and 15c, none higher.

THE STORY OF A WOOING

How a Rich Russian Prince Won the Heart of U. S. Grant's Favorite Granddaughter.

BY ETHEL DE VERE.

The marriage of Miss Julia Dent Grant to Prince Michael Cantacuzene, which is to take place in Newport on Sept. 25, will be the most brilliant wedding from a social standpoint that has taken place in this country for many years. Perhaps there will be no such lavish display as marked the Castellane-Gould nuptials, but the ceremony at the Beaulieu cottage will be attended by a gathering of such scores of distinguished people—still gazing at the spectacle from a society vantage point—as even the greatest of American watering places has never seen.

Miss Grant is the eldest daughter of General Fred Grant, who comes back from the Philippines to attend the ceremony. She is the granddaughter of General U. S. Grant. She was born in the White House and when a young girl was often referred to as "The Daughter of the Republic."

Her affianced husband is a rich Russian noble who is not only a prince, but a count and the head of one of the oldest and wealthiest families within all the wide realm of "the Great White Czar."

Just how it has come about that a plain American girl, who is not even a great heiress, is to become a Russian princess, is an interesting and fascinating story. It is told by Mrs. Potter Palmer, who is Miss Grant's aunt, and who knows more about the details of this international courtship than any one else except Miss Grant and her prince; it would take on the dignity of a romance. But even the bare outlines of the story are such as to hold the interest.

But first you must know that Julia Dent Grant can hardly be reckoned as a plain American. She has had advantages such as few American girls ever dream of. One of these is that she has been for years the special protégée of an aunt who is recognized to be the most powerful and skillful social diplomat in all America and a great match maker in the bargain.

Miss Grant is tall and of stately figure. She has dark eyes, which a poetic admirer likened to brown pansies. Her hair the same admirer compared with the tresses of the night. Her complexion is olive. Her smile is a delight. She is not as vivacious as the average American girl, but she has unusual grace and dignity, acquired chiefly when her father was minister to Austria and his 17-year-old daughter was known in the fashionable court life of Vienna. She attended many official receptions and was presented at court. It was between the ages of 14 and 18 years that Miss Grant lived at Vienna.

She is a fine linguist. She speaks French and German with fluency. She has much of the charm of manner that distinguishes one of her aunts. Mrs. Potter Palmer, and much of the loveliness of another. Mrs. Nellie Grant Sartoris.

"Little Miss Sunshine," as she was called by her grandfather in the days when he used to trot her on his knee, is 23 years old now. She has had three winters in New York society, three summers at Newport and one summer at Bar Harbor. At odd times she has been a favorite in Washington's cosmopolitan society since her debut.

She has had many admirers. Bob Gerry, the son of Elbridge T. Gerry, was one of the most conspicuous in the American list. But there were two kinglings in her train. One was big blond, Teutonic Prince Albert of Belgium, who will one day be ruler of the Belgians.

His attentions were very marked. But the Newport season of which Mrs. Potter Palmer was the bright particular star because of the attentions of the Belgian prince to her niece passed without the expected announcement of an engagement. The gossip declared that General Grant's granddaughter had thrown away the chance to be a queen.

Then came the Count of Turin, Prince Victor Emmanuel, nephew of King Humbert of Italy. It will be remembered that shortly after the Count of Turin arrived in New York he went to Washington. Miss Grant was then visiting the Hengelmuellers of the Austrian legation. Herr Hengelmueller presented the count to Miss Grant. The Italian was most attentive. He appeared at Newport soon after Miss Grant joined her aunt there. He declared himself bored by all entertainments except these given by Mrs. Palmer or others at which he met Mrs. Palmer's lovely niece. When Miss Grant came to New York, he came too. But by and by he went away, disappointed and dejected, to continue his trip around the world.

So you see that when Mrs. Potter Palmer went to Rome last January the beautiful young woman who accompanied her and who called her "auntie" was not so ingenuous and inexperienced in affairs of the heart as she seemed.

On Feb. 1 they were driving through the Eternal City when they met the Russian ambassador going in state to the Quirinal. Among the military attaches there rode a tall, handsome young man of imperial bearing. He wore the uniform of a lieutenant of the Imperial guards. He looked with respectful admiration at the younger of the women in the carriage.

The next evening he asked his host to be sure to present him to every American woman at the ball. He met them—fair, dark, stout, thin, short, tall—and still there was a look of disappointment in his eyes. The last lady to whom he was presented proved to be the object of his anxious quest.

"Miss Grant," murmured the host, "his highness Prince Cantacuzene Comte Speransky desires to be presented."

The prince called every day for a week. Then Mrs. Palmer decided to go to Cannes. It was a great disappointment to the prince. But he was a resourceful young man and proved equal to the emergency. He is a skilled diplomat, although only 25 years old, and diplomats were ever successful lovers.

Prince Michael Cantacuzene applied for a special leave of absence from his duties as military attaché of the Russian embassy at Rome. It is a fashion common to young diplomats. He excused himself on the plea that he wished to join the party of the Grand Duke Sergius, with whom he wanted to discuss some minor matter of state.

The Grand Duke Sergius happened to be at Cannes. Accordingly Prince Cantacuzene appeared in Cannes the day after the "unexpected pleasure" and "imperative orders from St. Petersburg" to join the grand duke. Notwithstanding the "imperative orders from St. Petersburg," the Grand Duke Sergius saw little of Prince Cantacuzene. Had he been a sensitive gentleman he might have felt the slight, but everybody knows the grand duke isn't. He only pulled his long mustache and smiled.

Mrs. Potter decided to leave Cannes as suddenly as she had left Rome. This time the grand duke was not available, and the prince followed them to Paris. His excuse this time was not diplomacy, but love.

All through the spring the courtship continued, and at last, one May morning, the prince sent a very important cablegram to General Fred D. Grant in Chicago. He had cabled a request for the hand of "Little Sunshine." The answer was favorable.

The engagement was simultaneously announced in Chicago and Paris. "There is really very little to say about the engagement," said Fred Grant. "I received a cablegram from Paris asking me to give my consent to the engagement between Prince Cantacuzene and my daughter, and I replied that there was no objection to it so far as I knew. I have known Prince Cantacuzene's family for 20 years."

Mrs. Potter Palmer, who is responsible for Miss Grant's career in society, has no daughter of her own, and since the bringing out of her niece four years ago she has put her forward in society as though she were her own child. Miss Grant's mother is the sister of Mrs. Palmer, who was before her marriage to the western millionaire in 1871 Miss Bertha Honore.

There has been a great deal of gossip about the dower which Miss Grant will receive at her marriage. Her father, Brigadier General Frederick Dent Grant, is far from being a rich man. He has only his officer's pay to live upon and the income from certain small holdings. His only son, Ulysses III, is now at West Point.

It is whispered that the dower which goes with Miss Grant will be bestowed by Potter Palmer and that the sum will be the interest upon $100,000. Of course a settlement is absolutely necessary when a foreign marriage is arranged, and it is only natural that the Palmers should settle a considerable amount upon the young woman whose past they have so carefully guided.

citizens is to warmly support the efforts of the administration to suppress the insurrection and establish peace. In the meantime let every intelligent citizen give earnest thought to the problem of our future policy as to that territory, to the end that when the question comes before us we shall be ready to meet it.

Of the trusts Governor Scofield said that partisan prejudices and campaign oratory were not the means of settling this problem. The development of our industrial system has been through wise combinations of capital and labor, the organization of each of which seemed a necessity. There is always great danger, he said, in placing great power in the hands of a few, whether in politics or religion. He saw more to fear on this point than in the danger of a raise of prices. Still he believed this might be met, and it might become necessary to take measures in time to prevent the advancement of prices beyond a reasonable point. The principle that ought to be applied, however, was a simple one—what was best for the people. Whatever vitally affects the people, in a form of government like ours, was a legitimate subject for legislative consideration. Proper combinations of capital, the governor said, are not necessarily enemies of the people. The results of the combination ought to be left to speak for it. If any combination should attempt to control a product in a selfish way against the interests of the people that combine ought to be dealt with. But all this emphasizes the necessity for thought and careful study of this problem.

Must Not Oppose Progress.

In conclusion the governor said: Let us not run against industrial or moral progress by denouncing every attempt which is made to make better use of labor, capital or machinery, but judge not of it by its fruits. No more worthy object of legislation and of treatment through the proper channels can be suggested than that which has to do with the material and moral welfare of the people. So, on the other hand, let us not make a bugaboo of these great combinations, and on the other hand let us not be afraid to deal with them as we would with any other movement which might tend to interfere with the proper interests or liberties of the people.

MR. STEPHENSON'S POSITION.

Hon. Isaac Stephenson has always been and always will be, a rock ribbed republican. The disposition is shown in some quarters, to create the impression that Mr. Stephenson contemplates an attack on his former friends to get revenge because of his defeat in his canvass for United States senator. Few people take any stock in such talk. Mr. Stephenson is a man of the world. Although he began life with nothing but his natural ability, he has amassed a large fortune, thus showing that he has judgment, foresight, and energy. In his busy life he has doubtless learned many truths, and among probably, are that the sayings "there is no use crying over spilt milk" and "if at first you don't succeed, try again" are pretty good mottoes to tie to. The man who succeeds has no time to waste in getting even, for while he is stationary, his opponent is going ahead, and as Mr. Stephenson has been successful, we are confident that he runs his affairs on this plan.

The people of Wisconsin know Mr. Stephenson well and favorably, and fully appreciate the fact to such men as he, Wisconsin owes much of her greatness. They therefore look upon him as much too big a man to devote his energies to tearing down, when building up will be equally satisfactory from every point of view. Small calibre men have small ideas and small aims, but men of Isaac Stephenson's stamp are built on a different plan. They are liberal minded and progressive in all things, and no favor is done them when they are pictured as cherishing ill will, and seeking revenge. Isaac Stephenson is a broad gauge man and no one who knows him will believe that he can run on narrow gauge rails.

William J. Bryan is getting around to the right idea. A short time ago he spoke in favor of abandoning the Philippines, and hauling down the American flag. Now he favors a vigorous campaign against the Philippines. Pretty soon he will "adopt the gold standard" and become one of the people—in favor of an honest dollar with an honest government behind it.

The people who were most vigorous in proclaiming the fact that prosperity could not return under a republican administration, are now the most vigorous in circulating the statement that they always "knew" it was coming, and you couldn't head it off. But how do they reconcile the two statements? Give it up.

Senator Foster of Washington says: "Washington is henceforth to be classed as a reliable republican state. Fusion between the democrats and pops cannot be consummated any more, for both parties are tired of the compact. Besides, we have too much prosperity for our people to want any other than a republican administration."

District Attorney Jackson may enjoy a seven hour shift under a broiling sun, in a tobacco field when a farmer's crop is in danger of being spoiled, but as a steady diet he prefers the practice of law, and the "spudding" of criminals. This is not official, but we believe it to be the fact.

The Dreyfus court found the defendant guilty, but said there were extenuating circumstances. Just what the "extenuating circumstances" could be, when the charge was treason, does not appear, but the "excitable Frenchman" is past finding out.

Cornelius Vanderbilt is dead. There was no "royal road to health," and the multi-millionaire came to his end in spite of his riches, and before a physician could reach his bedside.

There is no need of paying further attention to Edward Atkinson. Congressman W. B. Shattuc, of Ohio, has Edward well in hand and will place him where he belongs.

The railways are the business barometers, and all of them are busily engaged in building extensions, and making other improvements to keep pace with their requirements.

Secretary of State John Hay denies that this government has entered into an alliance with England. The question was raised by the plank in the Ohio democratic platform.

Captain T. J. Rogers of Beloit, has been ordered to Milwaukee on recruiting duty and leaves for the Cream City on Friday.

An automobile race, however, was one of the features at the State Fair yesterday, as was also a balloon ascension.

The "tariff is a tax"—on the machinery in the mills that are running overtime.

Artificial India rubber is the latest invention. Isn't this stretching a point?

Venezuela Verdict Is Near.

Buy a Modern Stove, Like
The Admiral....

Just as well make your purchase a new, modern Stove, as to put the same amount or more into the old style heater. THE ADMIRAL STOVE is original in design, ornamentation and construction; every feature is practical and every detail is of the highest order of workmanship. As a fuel saver it has no equal—it has the greatest amount of direct radiating surface for its size of any Stove on the market. Extra large flues bring the heat down to the lower bottom, then around a circular flue strip, back and up the rear flue, so that all the product of combustion is utilized before reaching exit.

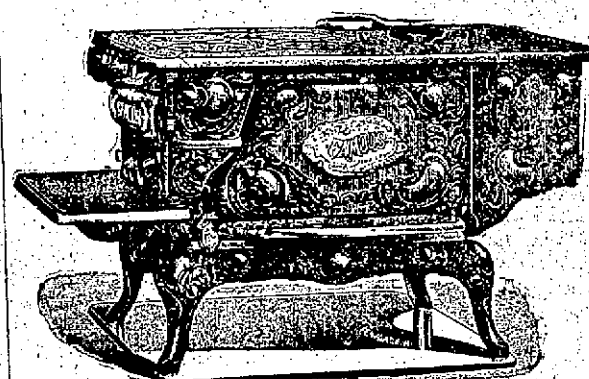

THE ADMIRAL STOVE creates a circulation over the entire room, drawing and heating the cold air from the floor and bringing heat down from the ceiling.

Some of the special features of THE ADMIRAL are: A statue of Dewey if you wish it; reflector top; automatic gas cover; spacious coal magazine; large mica illumination; large tea kettle attachment; convenient front flue stop; handsome top brass panel, etc.

Every Stove I sell is fully guaranteed and I show a great variety of heaters.

THE NINTH ANNUAL REUNION OF THIRD

SURVIVORS OF FAMOUS REGIMENT IN THE CITY.

Boys in Blue Met at Trains Today By Reception Committee—Gathering at Court House Tonight—Public Meeting Tomorrow Evening—Headquarters W. H. Sargent Post Hall.

The ninth annual reunion of the Third Wisconsin Veteran Infantry Association opened today and will continue tomorrow. The morning trains brought a number of the boys in blue and several arrived this afternoon, all of them being met at the trains by a reception committee, and escorted to the headquarters which have been established at the W. H. Sargent Post hall over the First National bank.

Many of the veterans have come from considerable distances to attend the gathering as the members of the association are pretty well scattered. It was stated by a member of the committee in charge that Major General Ruger, who has been in Europe, was on his way home and might arrive in time to attend, but as they have heard nothing from him within the last few days it is thought that it will be impossible for him to get here. The local merchants have responded well to the plea from the committee to decorate their places of business for the occasion, and the more public spirited of them display bunting and appropriate banners. No western regiment that fought in the civil war won more undying fame than the Third Regiment and they deserve all the honor that can be bestowed upon them by the citizens of Janesville.

The first session was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Post hall and consisted of the roll call, introductions and a grand talking over of old times. The meeting was called to order by President T. C. Slack of Cambridge who made a few pleasing remarks, after which the reunion was considered as formally opened. Thirty members responded to their names and at least fifteen more will arrive tomorrow. Gen. Edwin C. Bryant, Dean of the University Law school at Madison will be here tonight. He is the author of "Hamilton's Badger Boys," which will be sung by Col. E. O. Kimberley tomorrow.

The business meetings of tomorrow and the exercises tomorrow night will be held at the court house. The annual election of officers will take place at 2:30 p. m. In the evening at 7:30 a rousing camp fire will be held and the annual address will be delivered by Rev. E. H. Pence. An excellent musical program has been arranged and a limited number of invitations are out for the affair. "Take it altogether" the present reunion of "Sherman's Bummers" promises to be a steam, windier and one of the most successful ever held.

INVESTS IN MORE REAL ESTATE

A. P. Lovejoy Buys Two Lots at West Superior, Wis.

That our fellow townsman, A. P. Lovejoy, is impressed with the destiny of West Superior, Wis., is evidenced by the fact that he has invested about $55,000 in realty there during the past few weeks. The Daily Telegram, published at that city, has the following to say of last week's transfers:

"With a legal holiday to break into the week, the business in real estate circles was even greater than ever. Very few transfers of any size were recorded. The only important one was the purchase by A. P. Lovejoy of Janesville of two Tower avenue lots as reported at the time. The location is 709-11 Tower avenue, and the consideration, $12,000. Taking them altogether, the considerations named for seven days past, amounted to but $22,197."

STATE SCHOOL FOR THE BLIND OPENED

PUPILS TOOK UP THEIR STUDIES YESTERDAY.

Renewed Energy After the Long Vacation—Attendance is One Hundred, the Largest in Five Years—Many Improvements Made on the Buildings—Same Corps of Teachers.

The fall term at the State School for the Blind opened auspiciously yesterday morning and the pupils have taken up their studies with renewed energy after their long vacation. Nearly every train for the past few days has brought from one to a dozen pupils, and they will probably continue to straggle in until the full number is at the school. The attendance yesterday was one hundred, which is the largest number that has attended a commencement in five years.

Many improvements have been made at the institute since it closed for the summer vacation and a general overhauling has taken place. The most of the rooms in the building have been newly papered and painted and present a fresh appearance. A great deal of sanitary plumbing has been done and several new porcelain bath tubs have been added. In the office a new inlaid floor has been put down, and the interior has been otherwise improved.

Type-writing has been added to the course of study at the institute, and the students can now receive instructions in this important branch of work. No changes have been made in the teachers' staff, and all of the instructors who were employed last term are on hand now, and the outlook for a successful season's work is very promising.

SUBSTANTIAL BUSINESS MAN

Druggist Exchange Pays Monroe Gentleman a Compliment.

The Wisconsin Druggist Exchange pays Charles A. Lytle of Monroe, the following compliment: "Charles A. Lytle, the proprietor of the Cash Drug House of Monroe, is and has been well known for years to the people of southern Wisconsin. Born in 1845, at Mt. Joy, Pa., he lived there until 1862, when he entered the pharmacy of J. M. Bomgardner of Harrisburg, Pa., where he remained until 1864. At this time he entered the medical department of the United States navy as surgeon steward on board the U. S. Steamer Stettin, where he remained until 1866, when he removed to Monroe and engaged with the late J. K. Ellert, and at his death became the proprietor of the Ellert pharmacy. Mr. Lytle also owns and manufactures the Ellert remedies, which are so well known on the market. Mr. Lytle joined the association in 1898. He has a good business and is one of the substantial business men of Monroe."

Relied on His Wits.

In a recent address on Brown-Sequard, the French chemist, Berthelot explained why that eminent physiologist, in spite of his brilliant mind, was looked on with suspicion by scientific workers. He was careless in his experiments and relied too much on his wits. Whenever an idea came into his head, he wrote it on a piece of paper, which he threw into a box, and generally left it there, making no further use of it.

THOMAS FLYNN, who was up in the municipal court yesterday on the charge of assault and battery and disturbing the peace was discharged, as the evidence was insufficient to convict him.

TREAT EMPLOYEES TO A PLEASANT OUTING

JANESVILLE MACHINE CO.'S PLANT CLOSED TODAY.

Laborers and Their Families Spending the Day on the Shores of Geneva Lake—Two Hundred and Twenty Tickets Sold—Excursion Left Via C. & N. W. at 8 O'clock.

The employees of the Janesville Machine company are enjoying a day off and are taking advantage of it by spending the time with their families on the shores of Geneva Lake. The action of the company in shutting down the plant in their busy season in order that their men might have an outing, is a very commendable one, and their example should be followed by other manufacturing concerns.

There were just 220 tickets sold for the affair, and the excursionists left over the C. & N. W. road at 8 o'clock a. m. their train consisting of seven coaches. The most of the excursionists were provided with well filled lunch baskets, which should insure all against hunger during the day. The party went to Harvard, and from there took the trolley line to Williams Bay, on the northern shore of the lake, where they embarked in steamers for a trip around the various camps.

The excursionists were accompanied by the Imperial band, which furnished music during the day. They rendered several pleasing selections, at the depot before the train started, and the members were at their best.

As to the day, it was perhaps a little too chilly for a picnic, but the ardor of the participants was no cooler than if the temperature had been 90 in the shade. The only ones that suffered from the coolness, were the dispensers of ice cream and cold beverages at the lake, and the demand for their articles was not great. The excursionists will return to the city this evening, and the hard working men can resume their various duties in the shops tomorrow morning, with renewed energy, after their pleasant outing.

THE BASEBALL REPORT.

Results of Games Played Yesterday in the National League.

New York made ten runs in one inning with Chicago yesterday and had the game easy. Boston gained some ground by trouncing St. Louis twice, but that was offset by Brooklyn's win over Pittsburgh and Philadelphia's victory over Cleveland. Cincinnati again had trouble with Washington and only got one of the two games played. Baltimore made a stepping stone to Louisville and added two games to its winning total. The scores:

At New York—
New York 0 0 10 1 2 0 0—13
Chicago 1 1 0 0 0 0 0—2

At Baltimore—
Baltimore 0 0 0 0 0 0 3—3
Louisville 2 0 0 0 0 0 0—2
Baltimore 4 0 0 1 1 2 0—4
Louisville 0 0 0 2 2 0 0—1

At Washington—
Cincinnati 2 1 0 0 4 0 2—14
Washington 0 0 1 0 1 2 0—4
Washington 1 0 0 4 0 1—4
Cincinnati 0 0 0 1 0 0 1—3

At Boston—
Boston 0 3 0 2 1 0 0—6
St. Louis 0 0 0 2 0 0 1—3

At Brooklyn—
Brooklyn 0 0 0 0 1 3 0—4
Pittsburgh 0 0 1 0 2 0 0—3

At Philadelphia—

TWENTY KILLED IN WRECK.

Disastrous Railway Collision Near Bakersfield, Cal., Sept. 14.—Twenty people were killed and injured in a collision on the Southern Pacific road at Famosa, two miles south of here, at 12 o'clock last night.

Says Congress Will Not Act.

Washington, Sept. 14.—Senator Clark of Montana was in the city to-day. With reference to the Dreyfus case, he said: "Every one deprecates a verdict based on suspicion without a scrap of tangible evidence, and the whole world is shocked at the infamy. But attention will speedily be diverted to other things, and the proposed boycotting of the exposition will not go beyond the action of individuals. There will be no governmental action and certainly congress will not withdraw American participation in the exposition."

Asks Damages for Lynching.

Indianapolis, Sept. 14.—Mrs. Lula C. Jenkins filed three suits in the United States court Wednesday against the sheriff of Ripley county and citizens of Versailles for damages because of the lynching of her husband in 1897. Mrs. Jenkins demands heavy damages. Her husband was lynched with four other men and Mrs. Jenkins charges the sheriff with aiding and abetting the mob. A long list of citizens of Versailles is set forth as part of the mob.

Wants a New Commander.

Washington, Sept. 14.—Senator Scott of West Virginia called on the president Wednesday to urge the party and national necessity of recalling Gen. Otis or superseding him with a more acceptable general to command in the Philippines. On leaving the white house he informed a friend that he found the president less firm in his defense and support of Gen. Otis than on the occasion of an interview held at the state department.

IT IS NOT SO, HOWEVER, WITH THE

that we are now giving the people of Janesville and vicinity. The more often you see them, the greater good you receive, for to see them is to buy, and to buy is to get far better Shoes, in style and quality, for much less money than you ever did before.

The Only Reason We Can Sell So Cheap

is because we bought the entire stock of the largest Shoe store in Marinette, Wis., at a very low price.

The Only Reason We Do Sell So Cheap

is because we are obliged to. Long before we had the chance to buy this big stock we ordered heavy fall shipments, and they are all coming in on us now. We have not shelf room for them all, so give the people advantage of the big deal we made and let everyone do good to himself according to his purchase from this stock.

THE REASON WHY YOU SHOULD BUY AT ONCE is because when the Marinette stock is gone, this "Bargain Sale" is over. So hurry up and join the rush
REMEMBER, it costs you nothing to look, and but little more to buy.
